ENTHUSIASM IS PASS-WORD NOW

In the Great Movement
For Good Roads.

SEPTEMBER 27 AND 28 SET

As Road Working Days. When the DuPont Highway
Will Be Started.

ALL CITIZENS ASKED TO AID

The Ohio County Good Roads Association met at Rockport, Saturday, September 4th, with a large attendance of very enthusiastic members and citizens, together with an equally enthusiastic delegation from the south side of Green river, reaching as far as Greenville. Every town along the line was represented.

Judge T. J. Sparks, of Greenville, outlined the experience of the Good Roads Association of his county and stated that every member of the Association was really surprised at the enthusiasm manifested over the county and after the first meeting all that was necessary when a Good Roads meeting was wanted was to merely give a few days notice and they would have a large attendance. The Judge, in speaking about the project of our Association to build what will be known as the DuPont Highway from Beaver Dam to Central City, stated in very strong terms that he would speak for Muhlenberg county and meet us half way and even if necessary come over into our county and help inject enthusiasm needed to make this road a success.

County Attorney W. H. Gray, of Greenville, made a very strong talk and agreed to back all the statements made by Judge Sparks and wound up his speech by saying: "We will meet you at the river."

Mr. Gray was followed by Mr. H. F. Taylor, of Hartford, who has proven to be one of our strongest boosters of good roads. Every time we hear from Mr. Taylor he waxes more eloquent and puts more strength in his arguments that everyone should wake up to the fact that we cannot live in this progressive age without modern and up-to-date roads. Mr. Taylor was followed by Judge Jno. B. Wilson with some very forceful and interesting remarks, stating also that the time was ripe for action, that we should go to work at once to get some results from the labors of the Association. Dr. E. W. Ford does not hesitate to let it be known in very strong terms that he is a Good Roads booster. Mr. L. L. Stewart, general manager of the McHenry Coal Co., proceeded in his usual way of using the most flowery language that can be selected and clearly demonstrated to the gathering that every time he opened his mouth he said something. Mr. Stewart is very anxious to assist in every way to build the DuPont Highway which will go through probably two of the mining camps in which he is interested.

After hearing all the speakers, the Association at once proceeded to business, quickly agreeing on the 27th and 28th of September to be road working days. This work to apply on the DuPont Highway from Beaver Dam to Central City. The names of the Committee on Location are as follows: Judge John B. Wilson, T. H. Benton, Engineers R. H. Shelley, Norville Taylor and Guy Stetler. Soliciting committees were appointed all along the route to solicit the patrons of the road who will agree to lend their assistance on these days. It is expected that the ladies will prepare dinner for all of those who work. The Locating Committee will immediately go to work on this Highway and get same staked off, also get it divided into sections and get complete organization of teams and labor to the best advantage.

The business houses along the line will all close and the Association has the promise of numbers and numbers of teams and men already. It is hoped that everyone will co-operate together and make this the most successful road working day that has been inaugurated in this State.

The following list of names are those who have joined our Association since our last meeting:

L. L. Stewart, Jess Burgess, S. J. Tichenor, McHenry, J. L. Jenkins, A. T. Baker, Echols, S. J. Gish, Central City; R. E. Duke, F. L. Felix, Heber Matthews, W. H. Parks, A. D. Kirk, Marvin Baird, Hartford; Orville H. Taylor, C. N. Taylor, W. R. Cook, Beaver Dam; A. T. Bell, C. L. Bell, Roy King, O. C. Magan, F. M. Hoover, J. G. Bell, Buford; Willard Lake, Simmons; J. F. Miller, Vernon P. Ligon, R. C. Reid, Jno. T. Jackson, S. L. Fulkerson, Sam Fogle, A. B. Kevill, Z. Hassel, J. I. Hosick, Urey Haden, D. Park, Rockport.

Respectfully,
OHIO COUNTY GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION.
GUY STETLER, Sec'y.

SHE GAVE BIRTH TO TWO BOYS IN THREE WEEKS

Central City, S. D., Sept. 6.—Giving birth to babes three weeks apart was the unusual experience of Mrs. Ernest Moellendorf, a well known Central City woman.

The first child was a boy, but the little fellow was not fully developed and died 10 days later.

Just two days after the death of the child Mrs. Moellendorf gave birth to another boy, who is hale and hearty.

HOPKINS COUNTY ROADS ARE WORKED BY CITIZENS

Who Turn Out In Full Force—
Over 29 Miles Of Highway Improved.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 3.—Every business house in Madisonville closed to-day and the proprietors and employees joined in improving four roads leading out of the city in anticipation of the coming of the Dixie Bee Line Inspecting Committee September 13. At Earlinton, Hanson, Nebo and Manitou practically every business house was closed and on the four roads more than 700 men were at work during the entire day, the crews starting out promptly at 6 o'clock and quitting at 6 this afternoon. Between Earlinton and Madisonville 275 men were at work, crews out of each town meeting half way. Splendid results were accomplished on this road. The big hills between the towns were dynamited and the road straightened. At two points the work along this route was under the supervision of Charles Barnett and R. H. Whittier, of Earlinton, and W. H. O'Bryan and D. F. Cardwell, of Madisonville. Congressman Kinchloe was one of the laborers on this route and handled a shovel for ten hours. Barbecued lamb and Kentucky burgoo were enjoyed at noon. In all twenty-nine miles of road were worked to-day as follows: Madisonville to Earlinton, 4 miles; to Hanson, 7 miles; to Nebo, 9 miles; to Pond River, 9 miles.

The work was under the supervision of J. B. Earle, County Road Engineer; J. M. Flannigan, City Engineer; Earl Stone, former County Road Engineer, and several civil engineers. County Attorney Spert, County Judge Mills and Sheriff Logan and his four deputies assisted in the work during the day. Road graders, scrapers, plows and steam rollers were used and about 100 teams were in use on the four roads supplied by farmers and livermen. Automobile owners tendered their machines to the committee to transport the workers to the various sections. Business men not physically able to labor themselves employed men out of work and placed them on the road. Including to-day's work thirty-six miles of the proposed Dixie Bee Line route through Hopkins county have been worked and these roads are in excellent condition. The good roads spirit predominates throughout the county, and the business men are glad to co-operate with the farmer in the improvement of the highway. Otho Fowler, secretary of the Hopkins County Dixie Bee Line Association, stated to-night that next Wednesday the road from Earlinton to the Christian county line would be worked again and later in the week the other roads leading out of Madisonville would be worked.

PLAN TO POOL TOBACCO CROP

At District Meeting Of the
A. S. of E.

COUNTY MEETING SEPT. 11

An Effort Will Be Made to Sign Up 75 Per Cent of the Crop.

CROP OF DISTRICT IS SHORT

Plans for pooling the tobacco crop in the Green River District have been completed by the American Society of Equity and will be submitted to the growers in a short time. At a general meeting Thursday at the Circuit Court room in Owensboro, delegates from the four counties in Kentucky comprising the district, submitted their recommendations. County meetings of the society will be held at the county seats on Saturday, Sept. 11, for the purpose of placing the contracts for pooling before the growers.

In the event that 75 per cent. of the tobacco grown in the district is signed up to the sales committee of the American Society of Equity, receiving points will be located in each community where the greatest convenience of the growers will be served.

At the same time on Thursday reports from all sections of the district were received from members relative to the coming crop. With the exception of McLean county, which reported sixty per cent. of a normal crop, the other sections of the three counties in the district indicated less than one-half of a normal crop. In Hancock it was reported that the crop would not materialize more than twenty per cent., while in Ohio and Davies the estimates were much less than fifty per cent.

An estimate of the crop for the Green River District fixes the whole crop at 45 per cent. of normal. The estimate is based on conditions at present, but numbers of growers expressed the individual opinion that with the present weather conditions prevailing for two weeks, the final outcome of the crop would be very much better than the estimate.

The meeting on Thursday was attended by a large and enthusiastic lot of delegates. Probably 100 or more members of the Equity society were present from the district. The meeting also was attended by S. B. Robertson, of McLean county, who is the national secretary of the society. L. N. Robertson, local organizer, and others prominent in Equity circles were present to lend aid to the tobacco movement, which was the principal one under discussion.

SAY MAJORITY FOR ROAD
BONDS ALL NECESSARY

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 6.—Steps will be taken this week to test the State aid road law. In June Davies county voted on a $600,000 bond issue. A large majority was given in favor of the bond issue, but it failed to receive a two-thirds vote. It is the contention of Owensboro attorneys that only a majority vote is required. The authors of the new road law, Senators Joe F. Bosworth and C. T. Wyatt, in a signed statement, say that the two-thirds requirement was purposely left out of the present law.

Judge W. P. Sandidge has received from State Senators Bosworth and Wyatt a statement relative to the good roads amendment to the Constitution. Both Senators were instrumental in having the bill passed, and it bears their names, being known as the Bosworth-Wyatt act. It is plainly indicated in the statement that the framers of the bill never contemplated that a two-thirds vote would be necessary to carry a proposition for bonds.

Preparations for the legal action to be taken to have issued $600,000 worth of bonds voted in Davies county last June are almost completed.

A movement has been started to replace the Bourbon county fair with one sponsored by the counties of Scott, Harrison, Nicholas and Bourbon.

WON'T HAVE TO PAY COST OF WAR

Our Country To Be Financial Headquarters.

GERMANY COMING TO TERMS

Has Robbed Great Britain Of Her Mightiest Weapon
In Warfare.

MONEY EXPERT EXPLAINS

(By Kenneth W. Payne.)
Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—"By coming to terms with the United States on submarine warfare, Germany has robbed Great Britain of the mightiest weapon she hoped to wield in this war, the financial power of America!"

"For had the United States joined the Allies in war on Germany, our chief function would have been to share the burden of financing the struggle, and England knew it. But now it seems suddenly that we are to remain neutral. Our great financiers, while still aiding the Allies, will make them pay for that service!"

"And the great burden of the losses of the struggle, which we would have had to carry, had we become belligerents, will now fall on the common people of France and England. That is really the true significance of the sensational fall of sterling exchange!"

Thus, America's greatest academic authority on international exchange and banking, Prof. Thomas Conway, head of the money and banking department of the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania, showed up a significant connection between the two most sensational features of the current news, namely, the startling break in international exchange, and the clearing up of the German-American crisis over submarine warfare.

The unprecedented condition of finance and commerce in which we find ourselves has utterly amazed and puzzled even the biggest New York bankers.

For the first time in all history, the United States has become the leading export nation of the world. The American flag is flying on more ships than at any time since 1863.

The surplus held by the New York banks is the greatest in their history, and still more millions of gold are being shipped into them. And, finally, the price of the English pound, normally worth $4.8665, has broken in a startling way clear to a figure near $4.50, before recovery was suggested.

What does it all mean?
"That New York is now and will be henceforth the financial center of the world," is the answer many have been giving. I asked Dr. Conway to briefly explain the situation, from the disinterested point of view of an expert.

"The British people," he said, "are selling foreign investments wherever convertible, and lending the proceeds to the Government to prosecute the war. That is to say, they are selling property in foreign countries and the proceeds of the sale are being used indirectly to purchase the food and munitions consumed in the struggle. The further this liquidation goes, the more is the position of London, as the world's international money market, weakened."

THIRTEEN FAMILIES OWN
BIG SLICE OF MANHATTAN

New York, Sept. 6.—Thirteen families own one-fifteenth of the assessed land in the Borough of Manhattan, according to a statement issued here by the Society to Lower Rents and Reduce Taxes on Homes, which is making a study of what is termed "land monopoly" of this city. The society claims there are 560,000 families in Manhattan and that 13 are the owners of property assessed at a total of $205,404,375. It is also claimed that members of the families own considerable property in the other boroughs of New York, which are said to contain 1,100,000 families.

The statement asserts the 13 families are the following: The Astors, the Vanderbilts, the Rhinelanders, O. B. Potter properties, J. P. Morgan, E. H. Van Ingen, Wendels, Goetts, Ehret, Gerrys, Charles F. Hoffman estate, William R. H. Martin and Eugene Hoffman.

CARDINAL GIBBONS SEES A PROSPECT FOR PEACE

Washington, Sept. 4.—Cardinal Gibbons, dean of the College of Cardinals in the United States, presented to President Wilson a confidential communication from Pope Benedict inviting and urging this Government to co-operate with the Vatican and neutral nations to bring about peace in Europe.

A conference on the same subject was held later at the State Department between Cardinal Gibbons and Secretary of State Lansing.

After his visit and confidential talk to and with the President Cardinal Gibbons said:

"I think the prospects for peace are brightening."

This statement expressing the judgment of a representative of the Pope, after conferring with President Wilson, is regarded here as indicating that definite results, so far as future action by this Government and the Vatican are concerned, are already being achieved.

WASHINGTON TO MAKE NO MORE PEACE MOVES

Without Being Invited—Wants
To See a More Generally Receptive Spirit.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The United States will make no further efforts to bring about peace in Europe until it has received information that its good offices will be welcomed by both sides in the conflict. This was stated authoritatively here to-day in official discussions of the message from Pope Benedict, delivered to President Wilson yesterday by Cardinal Gibbons.

From the fact that the Vatican is in close touch with Austria, the construction placed by officials on the Pope's message is that the Germanic powers would be willing to discuss peace at this time. It was stated by those in closest touch with the Administration that similar word will have to be received from Great Britain and her allies before the President will make any further move.

President Wilson has made it clear several times that his original offer of services to bring about peace still stands, and that he will do everything possible to further the movement. The United States, however, will do nothing lightly to endanger its position as a friend to all belligerents, it is said authoritatively.

The Pope's message will not be made public by this Government, although there would be no objection to Cardinal Gibbons giving it out. Enough of the contents of the message is known, however, to give basis for indicating that Austria, Germany and Turkey are not adverse to discussing peace.

England Not Seeking Peace.

London, Sept. 4.—In high official circles here it is learned authoritatively that recent rumors of peace have no foundation in any step taken by the British Government or in any statement issued here from authoritative sources.

INVENTOR OF WHISKEY PROCESS IS FOUND DEAD

Sturgis, Ky., Sept. 4.—Richard Lindie, 63, formerly a distiller of this section, died suddenly last night. His death was not discovered until this morning when Lindie's lifeless body was found in a kneeling posture beside a cot in a tent he had erected near the city hall. Lindie was the inventor of a process for removing fusel oil from whiskey. It is said he never revealed his secret to any living person. Some years ago his mind became affected, but recently he appeared to be improved and when seen on the streets yesterday seemed in the best of health.

Jewish New Year.

The Jews, on Sept. 9, will usher in the 5,676th year in the Hebrew calendar. The feast, which has an unusual religious and historical significance, is called Rosh Hoshannah. Ten days later the "Day of Atonement," Yom Kippur, will be observed. Special services in all the synagogues throughout the world will be held.

BORDER BATTLE GETTING HOTTER

Fight Of Mexicans and U. S. Soldiers.

A SERIOUS CRISIS DEVELOPS

All Day Along a Two-Mile Battle Line.

TEN MEXICANS WERE KILLED

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 4.—Hordes of Mexicans to-night were reported massed along the river where to-day's battle took place sixty-five miles west of here. Communication between here and San Benito, in the raided district, was almost checked as a result of the wire cutters, and a sudden call to quarters of all troops stationed at Fort Brown was issued. At Garza Crossing, near Old Hidalgo, Tex., where United States Cavalry and Mexicans, across the river, engaged in an all-day battle, ending late this afternoon, the south bank of the Rio Grande was reported to-night lined with Mexicans, well armed, but it could not be ascertained whether they included any Carranza soldiers.

The so-called Constitutionalist railroad lines run near the crossing and it was reported that a train took many men from Matamoros to-night to the scene of the fight. The place was closely guarded by United States cavalrymen and no new demonstration had taken place up to a late hour to-night.

Military authorities at Fort Brown gave no reason for the sudden calling in of all troops.

Ten Mexicans Killed.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 4.—With at least ten known Mexican dead and probably as many more bodies lying in the dense brush, the fight between a band of Mexican outlaws and eighty United States cavalrymen, aided by a force of Texas rangers and armed citizens, ended late this afternoon. One American trooper was wounded.

At 4 o'clock the Mexicans withdrew from the south bank of the Rio Grande and hid in the brush, apparently awaiting another opportunity to attack the Americans. The battle was waged practically the entire day, the two forces firing at each other across the Rio Grande at a point four miles west of Old Hidalgo, Tex.

The participants were stretched out in the brush on a battle line two miles long.

The injured American was John Salvini, private in Troop D, Third Cavalry, who sustained a serious wound in the left hip. He was taken to Mission, Tex.

Capt. J. C. McCoy, who commanded the American forces, returned to Mission to-night. He reported ten dead Mexicans could be seen from the Texas side and that probably as many more Mexicans had been killed in the brush by shots fired from the Texas side. Earlier unofficial reports to-day placed the Mexican dead at twenty-five or thirty.

The number of Mexicans engaged was placed at forty.

When the fight ended the Americans were in possession of three crossings between Mexico and Texas in the vicinity of Mission. Hidalgo is sixty-four miles west of Brownsville.

The Mexicans made no attempt to cross the river, but opened fire early to-day at an American ranchman on the Texas side of the border and later at a detachment of cavalry ordered to the scene yesterday when they chased back to the Mexican side a band of invaders who had crossed the river Thursday night and looted a number of American stores.

Many Killed In Wreck.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Two hundred people, including many women and children, were killed in a train wreck several days ago, 200 miles east of Mexico City. American Consul Silliman, reporting to the State Department today, said the disaster was "an appalling one." Another train following with forty-five American refugees aboard was delayed by the wreck, but reached Vera Cruz yesterday.

SOCIALISTS ARE SPLIT OVER WAR

Breach Seems Too Wide
To Overcome.

WORK OF MANY GENERATIONS

Collapsed In a Day When One Section Deserted Former Ideals.

NOW WANT GERMANY CRUSHED

(By Frederick Werner.)
Berlin, Sept. 4.—The war has accomplished what neither the great Bismarck nor his minor successors were able to do—it has broken up the great Social Democratic party in Germany.

In the Chamber of Wuertemberg recently, the radical Socialists declared war to the knife against their old party when they formed the new independent party, the Socialist Union, whose actual program is peace
—peace without any attempt of conquest or of subjugation of nationalities.

Perhaps the most tragic element in the breaking up of the great socialistic world movement is that its downfall in Germany has been brought about by a question as typically national and imperialistic as this: Whether or not Germany is to profit by the war by extending her frontiers.

Here, at least, one was inclined to think, was a question on which all international Socialists must agree.
It appeared so absolutely evident that, of course, one must not suppress people and nations when the foundation of one's program is freedom. But those who thought so were evidently mistaken, and the latter attempts that were made to bring about a reconciliation served only to widen the breach.

The fate that overtook the International Socialists when the war broke out was, indeed, a tragic one,
and especially tragic to the German Socialists. Never had that party held a stronger or more proud position—with its 4,000,000 voters, the greatest party in Reichstag, and numerous representatives in the chambers of the various countries of the German Empire.

In one day the gigantic work of generations collapsed. The day when the German Socialists as a whole,
like a flock of sheep, deserted their ideals and voted in favor of the war appropriations, they sealed their own doom.

In a single moment the powerful party became a nonentity—its ideas and its power were swept aside by a word of the Kaiser and the millions of voters who for generations had been taught to hate and detest war, embraced the guns, shouldered the rifles and went to war with a song
on their lips.

It was seen then that there must have been a great unsuspected flow in the massive ingot of International Socialism. It has counted without taking into consideration that patriotism, old-fashioned love of country, love of the particular clan
to which you happen to belong, though a most primitive and unmodern feeling, is still stronger than the more ideal love of all mankind in general.

Anybody could see that there was no sense in International Socialists going to war against those they used to call brethren, for no other reason than because they happened to live on the other side of a political frontier. When the leaders afterward have tried to prove that there was sense in this, it is small wonder that they have not succeeded.

So much has gone to pieces that the leaders of the French Socialists solemnly call for bitter and implacable war until Germany, with millions of German Socialist brethren, lies crushed and bleeding to death on the battlefield.

So much has gone to pieces that most of the German Socialist leaders
see nothing repulsive in annexing Belgium, which the German Chancellor himself a year ago declared had been violated by Germany, in defense of her national existence.

So much has gone to pieces that German Socialist leaders calmly discuss "regulations of frontiers" as the result of a war in which millions of people have been murdered.

"How is it possible to get away from these facts?" asks Herr Liebnecht, the only German Socialist who from the first remained loyal to his ideals, which with him had become convictions. "How powerless are now even the most honeyed and clever phrases against these dreadful events, and what a bottomless pit of hypocrisy it is to pretend that they do not exist or that they mean nothing!"

NO INDICTMENTS FOR LEO FRANK'S LYNCHERS

Grand Jury Examined Many Witnesses But Failed To Get Evidence.

Marietta, Ga., Sept. 2.—The Cobb county grand jury reported late today that it had been unable to find enough evidence, after a two days' examination of witnesses, to indict
anyone for the lynching of Leo M.
Frank. The report stated:

"We have found several clues, but we have been unable to find anyone who could identify any party. We have done our best, under oath, and we regret to state that we have been unable to find enough evidence to indict anyone for this crime."

After it is stated that the jury had the active co-operation of Gov. Harris, the State Attorney General, Solicitor Herbert Clay and other officials of Cobb county, the report adds:

"We have been unable to connect anybody with the perpetration of this offense, or to identify anyone who was connected with it, although we have investigated the information furnished us by officers and other parties and have followed up letters, signed and unsigned, and to this end we have subpoenaed and examined many witnesses in an effort to disclose the perpetrators of this crime, but none of these witnesses could identify any of the parties."

"We find, from investigation, that the officers of the law and the citizens of our town and county knew nothing of this crime until they heard of the body being found near Frey's Gin in this county. The city of Marietta and the county of Cobb were quiet before this trouble, are quiet now and all reports to the contrary are untrue."

Upward of thirty-five witnesses were examined yesterday and to-day.
They include the Chief of Police and other citizens of Atlanta and persons in every walk of life in Marietta.
Anonymous letters, referred to in the report, still are being received by officials of Cobb county and others, but the tendency now is to ignore them.

"Marietta is not in the frenzied state of turmoil that has been pictured," said Solicitor Clay to-day.

His Answer.

A Sunday School teacher had been telling her class of little boys about crowns of glory and heavenly rewards for good people.

"Now, tell me," she said, at the close of the lesson, "who will get the biggest crown?"

There was silence for a minute or two, then a bright little chap piped out:

"Him wot's got th' biggest head."

DEMOCRATS ADOPT A FINE PLATFORM

At State Convention In Louisville.

PRESIDENT WILSON ENDORSED

As Standard Bearer Of Party
In 1916—Favor County Unit Law.

BECKHAM ENTERS A PROTEST

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31.—Declaring in favor of the county unit law as now on the statute books of the State, enactment of an anti-pass law, submission of a constitutional amendment permitting convicts to work public roads, elimination of the prison contract system, revision of the tax system, good roads, better schools, amendments perfecting the primary election law, including the power of the State Railroad Commission, the enactment of a workingman's compensation law, anti-trust laws and corrupt practice act, Democrats of Kentucky in convention at Keith's theater to-night adopted unanimous a platform of principles that brought forth cheer after cheer.

The convention unanimously endorsed President Wilson as the standard bearer of the party in 1916.
Kentucky was the first State to take such a step. The resolution said in part:

"We believe that his mastery of the situation (European) requires his renomination in 1916 and endorse him as the party's most efficient and trusted leader in the coming national election, believing that patriots without regard to party recognize Woodrow Wilson as the one man best suited to bear the burdens and perform the herculean tasks
now confronting the President of the United States."

A thrill was injected into the proceedings when George G. Speer, a member of the committee on permanent organization, submitted a report, which was adopted without a dissenting voice, unseating Rufus H.
Vansant, of Ashland; A. G. Rhea, of Russellville, and Bridges White, of Mt. Sterling, as members of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees from the State-at-large, and naming as their successors Judge S. W. Hager, of Owensboro; James P. Edwards, of Louisville, and George B. Martin, of Boyd county, Judge Hager becoming chairman of the two committees; Mr. Edwards becoming a member of the State Executive Committee, and Mr.
Martin becoming a member of the State Central Committee.

The convention also unseated Urey Woodson, of Owensboro, as National Democratic Committeeman from Kentucky, naming Gen. W. B. Haldeman, of Louisville, in his stead.

The platform was drafted by a committee of which United States Senator Ollie M. James was chairman and he made a speech in advocacy of its adoption which brought the delegates to their feet repeatedly.

The convention endorsed the National and State administrations and went on record as opposing sweeping changes in school books and as favoring State aid for the farmers' associations of Kentucky. It also declared against lobbyists and in favor of continued co-operation on the part of the State Board of Health with the Federal health authorities with a view to preventing trachoma.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham in a speech late to-night offered a motion seeking to have the convention reconsider the ousting of Chairman
Rufus H. Vansant, Committeemen
A. G. Rhea, W. Bridges White and Urey Woodson, National Committeman from Kentucky, Congressman

WHAT LINCOLN WANTED MOST WHEN PRESIDENT

In the "Interesting People" department of the September American Magazine appears an article about Russell H. Conwell, the famous Philadelphia speaker who has delivered one lecture over five thousand times.
In the course of the article Mr. Conwell tells as follows what Abraham Lincoln once said to him:

"No man ought to be ambitious to be President of the United States:
when this war is over, and that won't be very long, I tell my Tad we will go back to the farm where I was happier as a boy when I dug potatoes at twenty-five cents per day than I am now. I tell him I will buy him a mule and a pony, and he shall have a little cart, and he shall make a little garden in a field of his own."

DARING ALPINE GUIDE IS KILLED IN BATTLE

From Lofty Height He Directed Effective Battle Against the Enemy.

Vienna, Sept. 2.—Sepp Innerkof-ler, a famous Tyrolean Alpine guide,
who was known to many Americans,
has been killed at the front on the Isonzo. Before an Italian bullet struck him down he accomplished
many daring deeds.

In the course of the battles in the region of the Drei-Zinnen Mountains
it became necessary to reconnoiter
the positions of the Italian artillery and infantry. Innerkofler volunteered for this dangerous work. On a pitch dark night he climbed to a summit of the Kleine Zinne, a peak nearly 8,000 feet high.

He carried a telephone apparatus and in the morning, as soon as he could distinguish the Italian positions, he directed the fire of the Austrian artillery from his lofty post.

The Italians were thrown into a panic when a hail of shells struck them with deadly accuracy. After a fearful bombardment they were completely driven from the Patternosaddle by an attack of a battalion of Tyrolean sharpshooters.

Shortly before his death Innerkof-ler led a small scouting detachment which had been ordered to make a flank attack on a company of Italian Alpine troops. Under the cover of the night, after hours of dangerous climbing, the famous guide brought the detachment to the summit of Mount Elfers, one of the loftiest of the dolomite mountains in the Sexton region. About 4 o'clock in the morning, Innerkofler and his companions found a favorable position and opened fire.

The Italians brought their artillery into action and when they found that they could not reach the enemy with their shells they decided to cut off the retreat of the small band. Innerkofler was not to be caught, however. He descended on the Italian side of the mountain and then brought his detachment safely back to the Austrian lines over secret mountain paths that were only known to him.

A heavy fog aided him and his men in their escape and they had no losses, although they killed about 25
Italians.

"I have tried most all of the cough yourself what a splendid medicine it is. Obtainable everywhere. m

BRINGS DOWN ROOSTER WITH AUGUST SNOWBALL

LaCrosse, Wis., Sept. 1.—William Finn and his family, in their cozy farmhouse on Pine Creek, near here,
to-day ate, perhaps, the first rooster ever killed with a snowball in August.

Rising early Farmer Finn found the frost so thick he easily gathered up a snowball and shied it at a crowing rooster, with fatal results.

Crows were not damaged seriously
in this vicinity.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework,
as well as run a big water mill.
I wish every suffering woman would give

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness,
tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

The closing scene in the farcical proceedings to discover the participants in the Leo Frank lynching came at Marietta, Ga., last week when the Cobb county grand jury reported that it could find no evidence whatever to convict anybody. It was hardly expected that they would. The plan of suppressing identity of the lynchers seems to have been well understood in Georgia all along. The mob spirit rules, all others not into the game are bluffed, and the dark blot on a fair Southern State stands out darker than ever.

The action of Kentucky Democrats at the State Convention last week in endorsing the administration of President Wilson and declaring in favor of his renomination in 1916, was a clarion cry to the country and is being heartily received by Democrats everywhere. Kentucky is the first of the States to take this sort of action and every loyal Democrat should be proud of the distinction. Up to this time the President has given no sign regarding his future plans. But he will probably not be able to resist the importunities for him to run again.

Whatever the Committee on Organization in the Louisville Democratic State Convention may have thought was their privilege in displacing certain party officers, they seem to have made a mistake in ousting Mr. Urey Woodson from his place on the National Committee. It was generally understood that Mr. Woodson was chosen to fill out Mr. Mayo's unexpired term, which has some time to run yet. No convention except one called to name delegates to a National Convention has ever done this before. This action was entirely uncalled for.

It is said that comparisons are odious, but loyal Kentucky Democrats can hardly help noticing the difference between Senator Beckham and Judge O'Rear. Recently they both flew off their party's track to stump the State for Prohibition. When the Republican convention assembled, Judge O'Rear tried valiantly to get his party to accept his views but gracefully accepted defeat for the sake of party harmony. Senator Beckham did the other thing. In the closing minutes of his party's State Convention he threw discord in the ranks because the proceedings did not suit him. You can draw your own conclusions.

Whether the Committee on Permanent Organization did right or wrong in committing the Louisville Democratic State Convention to a removal of certain high functionaries in party office, Senator Beckham was the wrong man to throw a political bomb into his own party's ranks and cause discord by a motion which he must have known would be lost. He would better have "let George do it." His feet having hardly rested from traveling over the State with Judge O'Rear, both in the business of causing discord and a split in their own party, after both had been signally honored, Senator Beckham is the last man to say anything about party irregularity. He seems yet intent on splitting his party.

The Hartford Republican goes out of its way and without cause makes an unkind personal attack upon Messrs. Birkhead and Ringo—the former (through the Owensboro News) because he did not call a special term of court to investigate alleged election irregularities, and the latter because his attorneys invoked the plain letter of the law in his defense of Tanner's contest suit. Judge Birkhead called a special panel of the grand jury, which has just adjourned, to investigate all kinds of wrongdoing. The editor of the Republican is a lawyer. He must know that after the statute had been cited in the Tanner-Ringo contest suit, there was no basis—no suit—upon which to continue action in the matter, as the presiding Judge ruled.

In a talk before an advertising convention in Chicago last week, when he was asked regarding his political future and whether he would ever run for office again, Hon. W. J. Bryan said:

"I want it understood that I have no plans now or for the future to at any time become a candidate for any office. I have no political expectations whatever."

Mr. Bryan said he thought this explanation ought to be satisfactory to everybody except that class of people who insist he shall promise that never under any circumstances will he ever be a candidate for anything again. He says he does not think it necessary to make that kind of a promise now.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST DIPLOMAT IS WILSON

Washington, Sept. 6.—Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, a warm personal friend of William J. Bryan, to-day expressed enthusiasm over the prospect of the re-election of President Wilson.

The Senator directed through the recent State Convention of Kentucky a resolution endorsing the President for a second term.

"The President's action in obtaining from Germany an acceptance of his contention with regard to submarine warfare will make his name in history secure as the world's greatest diplomat," said Senator James to-day.

"The President," he added, "has done by peace what Roosevelt wanted to thrust the country into war to undertake."

"He has furnished renewed evidence that the people made no mistake in trusting to his patriotism and statesmanship."

Senator James predicts that A. O. Stanley will be elected by an old time Democratic majority of 40,000.

BEAVER DAM.

Sept. 6.—Beaver Dam is putting on city style, having street lights in full blast. The town Board has made a contract with Mr. J. H. Barnes to furnish the city lights for ten years.

Rev. R. L. Creal filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday. After the sermon Clifford Maddox was licensed to preach by order of the church. He leaves for Georgetown College next week for his last term in that institution. One sad feature of the Sunday School was the absence of Mr. Short Burgess, who has been superintendent for three years. He resigned to move with his family to Owensboro to make their future home. Also Miss Myrl Miller, who had been a faithful teacher in the same school, left with her father and mother, Mr. A. K. Miller and wife, for Tulsa, Okla., to make their home in that city. Mr. Sam Mason, wife and daughter have gone to the same city. Mr. Mason's boys are in the grocery business in Tulsa and he and his family go to join them. His daughter Miss Myrtle was a member of the Baptist Sunday School, always present while here.

Mr. Thomson Williams and wife left last week for Herrin, Ill., to engage in the mining business.

Mrs. Irene Beesley, of Morgantown, is visiting the family of Mr. Bass Taylor.

Mr. Dudley Tanner, who has been with his father and mother at Rockwood, Tenn., during vacation, returned Friday to be ready for school. He is vice president of Beaver Dam school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burgess left last week for Cold Water, Kan., to meet her husband, who has been living in Kansas since early in the summer.

Miss Mary Lee Creal, of Supply, Okla., has arrived at the home of her uncle, Rev. R. L. Creal, to matriculate in school.

The fall term of the West Kentucky Seminary opened this morning with a full corps of teachers, everything pointing to another interesting term.

KENTUCKY FIRST STATE ON BOOSTING WILSON

For Renomination—Party Leaders At Washington Are Much Pleased.

Washington, Sept. 4.—It is generally understood here that the action of the Kentucky Democrats in State platform convention at Louisville in endorsing the administration of President Wilson and declaring in favor of his renomination in 1916, means that Woodrow Wilson will seek a second term.

Party leaders here made no effort to conceal their gratification that Kentucky was the first "to get in on the ground floor" in putting its stamp of approval on the Administration and favoring the renomination of the President.

Up to this time the President has made no public statement of any kind regarding his future plans. Time and again his friends have tried to learn from him whether or not he proposes to seek a second term, but first-hand information was not forthcoming.

Shortly before Senator James, who served as chairman of the Resolutions Committee of the platform convention, left Washington for Louisville he called at the White House and had a long talk with the President. The friends of the President are of the opinion that he had an inkling such a resolution would be introduced in the convention. At all events, the President and his supporters here are greatly pleased over the result of the convention.

Ohio County Fair.

Arrangements are going forward steadily for the great Ohio County Fair which will begin Sept. 16th and continue three days. Vast improvements are being made to the grounds and buildings. No more beautiful grounds are to be found in Kentucky. Situated on the shores of Rough river with a natural grove, which has been the admiration of thousands of visitors, the site furnishes a most delightful place for a few days rest and enjoyment among old friends and acquaintances.

The amphitheater has been rebuilt and general improvements to all buildings. Good premiums and purses are offered in all departments. Special attractions never before seen in Ohio county have been provided. A fine band will be on hand to furnish music each day. No one can afford to miss the great Ohio County Fair this year. Remember the dates, Sept. 16, 17 and 18.

Notice.

Centertown, Ky., Sept. 4, 1915. Editors Hartford Herald:—In the Owensboro Messenger of August 28, 1915, on the front page, is printed an article saying that I and 21 others were to be tried the next day for decoying Wm. Barnes from Butler county and whipping him brutally. The statement is absolutely false, as I was never charged with whipping Barnes by the grand jury or any one else except this paper, and had no knowledge of the affair until it was over. The Owensboro paper having refused to retract the statement after I notified them of its falsehood, I ask you to print this letter.

I have used this Owensboro paper for this libel, and only ask that public judgment may be suspended until the case can be tried.

Big Sum For Schools.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6.—Nearly $4,000,000 will be available for the schools of Kentucky for the year 1915-1916. Of this amount $3,903,360.25 is available from the per capita, $39,622.46 from the dog tax, $21,265.85 as interest on bonds and $3,697.42 balance due from last year, making a total of $3,967,947.98 available for the present scholastic year. These figures were compiled by the Department of Education.

IS MAINLY THE WORK OF THE REPUBLICAN PRESS

The Republican press of the State and a few soreheads are trying to make much out of the changes made by the State Convention in some of the committeemen. The purpose of these two opposing factions is clear—they wish to lead astray all the voters they can. The row is the making of a mountain out of a mole hill; that and nothing more.

Every consistent Democrat does and will accept the action by his vote in November without doubt. What little soreheadedness which may now exist will by then have disappeared, and the work of the Republicans to make much of little, for their own political advantage, will go for naught. Mr. Stanley and the ticket of which he is the head is going to receive the largest majority given the Democrats in any general contest for many years. This is a fact which doubters can count upon.—[Paducah News-Democrat.]

TAFT BURNS MORTGAGE ON PRISCO EXPOSITION

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—William Howard Taft, who, as President of the United States, broke ground for the Panama-Pacific Exposition four years ago, to-night burned the exposition mortgage in a ceremony which symbolized payment of all indebtedness. The ashes were cast to the winds from an illuminated aeroplane by Charles Niles.

Charles C. Moore, president of the Exposition, holding a check for $110,159.02, the payment which made the exposition debt free, and a representative of the San Francisco Clearing-house, holding the mortgage, stood in the center of a spotlight's glare and exchanged papers.

Figures representing the Indian, the pioneer, the cavalryman, labor, energy, genius and imagination, appeared in tuft in living pictures.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Public:—I have bought of Mr. E. E. Birkhead the farm agency of the Continental Insurance Company and will continue to write farm property in the Continental in this county and Butler.

The Continental is an old established company and needs no introduction to the people of Ohio county. It has a capital of more than two millions of dollars and has been doing business for many years. During all of the time that it has been writing farm property in this county it has never had a lawsuit and although it has had hundreds of losses, no one has ever had to sue to collect his loss.

I will have an office in Hartford and will continue the practice of law in connection with my insurance. I will have good solicitors in the county and will appreciate your business. When you write your business in the Continental, you know you are safe. It is no experiment.

Thanking the people for their many past favors and hoping that I may be favored with your business, I am,

Sincerely,
OTTO C. MARTIN.

CENTAUR,

Kentucky's Favorite Educated Horse, will Be at the Ohio Country Fair.

Centaur, the horse with human brains, is no doubt, the finest trained animal traveling to-day. Mr. Simon Smith, his trainer, veritably carries on a conversation with Centaur, who performs feats that would be hard for many children less than ten years of age. It is a well known fact that all animals have no particular liking for fire, and in most cases it is utterly impossible to induce one to approach flame of any kind, but with Centaur he seems to be perfectly at home when he dashes into a burning building at each performance and rescues a child, bringing the infant to safety and depositing it in the arms of his master. Centaur spells words and names called from the audience with the greatest ease, also proves himself a wonder in solving examples in arithmetic. He is the only horse known to have been trained to get into a real bed and cover himself up just like a person.

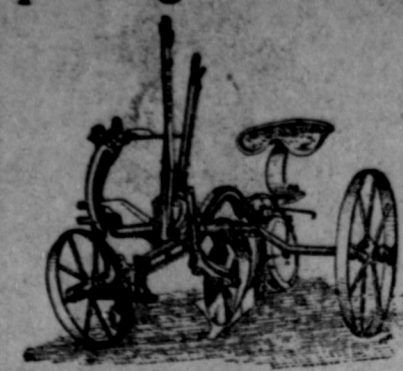

In addition to the horse show you will witness a very clever wire act, flying trapeze acts. Last, but not least, see Wayne, the dog, walk the high rope.

Plowing Time!

Wheat sowing season will soon roll around. Don't put off your plowing until the last minute.

BUY YOURSELF A NEW OLIVER RIDING BREAKING PLOW and enjoy real luxury in plowing.

It does the work so perfectly and with so little effort on the part of your team that you are always in a happy frame of mind when plowing with the Oliver.

If you don't know positively that these statements are absolutely true, ask any farmer who has used an Oliver. If he doesn't tell you they are true in every sense of the term, don't buy the plow.

A telephone call will bring our demonstrator to your field and he will show you how a real plow operates.

A demonstration places you under no obligation to buy. It must please you and do your work to your entire satisfaction or we don't want to sell it to you.

FAIR & Co.
THE FAIR DEALERS

Beaseley, McHenry; N. A. Jarnagin, Prentiss, and James W. Carter, Hartford, Route 1 and J. T. Ralph, Hartford, Route 3, were among The Herald's recent callers.

The Herald is indebted to Mr. Perdie Lee Tinsley, Hartford, Route 3, for a fine sample of Egyptian wheat, grown on his father's farm. This wheat is said to be very fine stock feed.

Judge Miller, Hartford, and Miss Edna Elliot, Little Bend, Ky., both of whose serious illness was reported in these columns last week, were no better at the hour of going to press last evening.

Mr. Arthur Frievoile, who has been on a visit to relatives in Hartford, will leave for his home at Mascoutah, Ill., to-day. His wife, son and mother-in-law will remain in Hartford for awhile longer.

Forty stalls have already been engaged for stock during the coming Ohio County Fair. There are five racers and as many trotters from a distance now on the Fair Grounds here for the fair next week.

The Hartford post-office has been moved to the Hartford Drug Co. old stand, corner Main and Center streets. The new quarters have been nicely improved and arranged especially for a post-office and the Government lease is for ten years.

Mrs. Emory Schroeter and children have returned from a visit to Mrs. Schroeter's brother, Mr. M. D. Thomas, at Morgan, Ky. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Schroeter's father, Mr. E. P. Thomas, who had also been on a short visit at Morgan.

Mr. L. O. Coleman, who is with the International Commerce Commission, was in Hartford Monday. He spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Coleman, Paradise, Ky. He was enroute from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Indiana to prosecute his work.

Mr. Henry Aull, druggist, who formerly lived here and is well known to many of our older citizens, recently underwent a serious operation for stomach trouble at Rochester, Minn. A card received from him Monday says he is over the worst of it and has returned to his home in Bowling Green, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Foster and little son Yewell, the latter of whom have been on an extended visit to Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown, Centertown, have moved to Hartford and are occupying the Iler brick property at the north end of Center street. Mr. Foster is at Central City at present, working on the new Christian church.

Mr. Wm. S. Moore, who has been spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Moore, Hartford, will leave next Sunday for Lexington to resume his work in State University. This is his junior year. The following young men of Hartford will leave at the same time to enter State University, viz.: Wilbur Rhoads, Otis Howard, Howard Glenn and Park Taylor.

John Butler Rowan Dead.
Mr. John Butler Rowan died of Bright's disease at his residence, six miles west of Hartford at 10:25 p. m., last Thursday. After funeral services by Rev. B. W. Napier, at his home, his remains were buried in the Woodward's Valley church cemetery Friday afternoon.

Mr. Rowan, who was 67 years and 23 days old, was a good citizen. He leaves surviving a widow, six children—three sons, Andy Rowan, Sam Rowan and Lytle Rowan; three daughters, Mrs. Ada Maples, Mrs. Lizette Patton and Mrs. Lee Shown. The deceased was also an uncle of Mr. Rowan Holbrook, of Hartford.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.
When you come to the fair next week don't fail to call at the Sheriff's office and pay your taxes and thereby save the penalty.

Com'th. vs. W. A. Owen, charged with burning a tobacco barn at Fordsville—verdict of jury, not guilty.

Another special term of the Ohio Circuit Court was called to meet October 11th and to continue to and include October 16, 1915, for the orders, trials and judgments of the following cases:

5220—Com'th. vs. Jno. Durham, Sr., et al., set for Oct. 11, 1915.
Bruno Frey in indictment numbers 5208, 5209, 5210, 5211 and 5212—charged with having wine in his possession for sale—set for same date.
Oct. 12—5246 Com'th. vs. Claude Allen, et al., 5247 same vs. Wm. Combs.

Oct. 13, 1915—5250 Com'th. vs. Newt Dennis, et al., 5257 same vs. Walter May, et al.

Oct. 14—5231 Com'th. vs. Jesse Fulkerson, et al.—set for trial as to the defendant, Dolly Singleton.

Oct. 15—5259 Com'th. vs. Reed Hurt, et al.

Before adjourning finally the grand jury returned into court the following indictments in addition to those reported last week, viz:

Com'th. vs. Wm. Combs, charged with unlawfully confederating together to injure others—bond fixed at $500.

One against Baker Dortch, Rupert Taylor, Ed. Dortch, Lou Kirtley, charged with same offense—same size bond for each.

One against H. F. Stearsman, charged with like offense—bond fixed at $1,000.

One against Newt Dennis, Jesse Fulkerson, Estill Fulkerson, Charles Fulkerson, Ray Hunter, Dolphin Hunter, Robert Greer, Jerry Clark, Harrison Maddox, Harry Woodburn, Oscar Taylor, Tobe Wydick, Tom Engler, Pat Wydick, Jake Bowen, Mort Tate, Hugh Myers, Guy Taylor and Ross Whittaker, each charged with like offense—bond of each fixed at $750.

Two against Andrew Pryor, charged with selling liquor without license.

Two against Red Tom Awtry, charged with drawing a deadly weapon.

One against John Frog Awtry—same charge.

One against J. P. Taylor, charged with having liquor in his possession for sale.

One against Dee May and Walter May, charged with rape. Both executed bond in the sum of $500 each yesterday for their appearance at the October term of court.

One against R. T. Taylor, charged with having liquor in his possession for sale.

One against Reed Hurt, Beckham Feemster and Billy Schroeder, charged with disturbing religious worship.

One against Herman Morris, charged with carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

Com'th. vs. Elza Allen, et al.—bond of each of the defendants reduced to $1,000. Defendant Elza Allen executed bond; also Ray Hunter.

Com'th. vs. Eph Risinger—Abe Carter executed bond.

Wm. Combs, who was arrested some time ago under a writ charging him with unlawfully banding together to injure another and who waived the examining trial and executed bond for his appearance to Circuit Court and who was indicted by the grand jury last week, was surrendered by his bondsmen yesterday and he was in the custody of the Sheriff late yesterday hunting for new bondsmen.

Mrs. Combs Dead.
Mrs. Ada Combs, wife of Mr. M. H. Combs, died at her residence at Dukehurst, this county, last Saturday night at 8 o'clock. After funeral services by her pastor, Rev. Vanhoy, her remains were buried in the family cemetery.

The deceased, who had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for several years, was the youngest daughter of the late I. N. Duke.

She leaves surviving her husband, Mr. M. H. Combs; daughter, Miss Lena Combs; son, Eugene Combs; brother, J. A. Duke, and sister, Mrs. Prudie Moore, Hartford. Mrs. Combs had been in declining health for several months. The family have the profoundest sympathy in this their saddest bereavement.

OLATON.
Sept. 6.—Rev. F. M. Farris is on the sick list. Mrs. Ida Acton is also ill.

Mrs. Josie Lyons seems to be improving since she returned from Arizona. She and her husband will soon leave for Florida to spend the winter.

Miss Zella Lyons, milliner, is in Louisville.

Mr. John Dougan and family, of —, are visiting relatives and friends in Olaton.

Mrs. Maude Moseley and two children, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. May, returned to their home at Springfield, Ill., last Saturday.

Mr. Carson Duncan has gone to Springfield, Ill., looking for a location. If he finds a place to suit him his family will join him.

The entertainment at C. D. Bean's Wednesday night was highly enjoyed by the young folks.

Miss Mamie Cooksey, milliner, has gone to Louisville to buy her stock. She will be in E. M. Hoover's store. With this competition, we should have cheaper hats.

Slowly Improving.
Concerning a sister of Mrs. C. M. Crowe, of Hartford, the Russellville Times says:

Miss Ada Chandler, of Auburn, who sustained a broken ankle and a number of breaks in the foot almost a month ago in Nashville, continues to slowly improve, and will eventually have good use of the ankle and foot. Miss Chandler was injured internally in the fall and though at times her sufferings are intense it is thought she will escape an operation.

MILLINERY.
Mrs. Sara C. Smith will be with the Hub Clothing Co., Hartford, again this fall. 36tf

Takes Hurred Departure.
Paducah, Ky., Sept. 4.—William Malone and his family, who recently moved to Bartow, Ballard county, from Carlisle, left the city precipitately this week, on receipt of an anonymous warning advising him to leave or find employment. A bundle of switches was tied to the communication. Malone left immediately, taking his family through a pouring rain, in the direction of Wickliffe.

Ice Cream Supper.
The Ladies Rural Club of the Washington neighborhood will give an ice cream supper at S. F. Wallace's residence, Tuesday night, September 14. Proceeds to go for benefit of church. Everybody invited.

A Pitiful Arrest.
Evansville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Robert Price, aged 40 years, was arraigned in the City Court here to-day on the charge of passing a forged check for 55 cents. He was bound over to the Circuit Court and, being unable to give bond, was sent to jail. Price claims he was out of work and that his little 8-year-old boy was on the verge of starvation and that he forged the check to get groceries to feed the boy.

Another Terrapin Story.
Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 6.—Henry Holshouser, a farmer living near this city, found a terrapin on his farm with the initials of "C. P. J." cut on its back. The farm on which the terrapin was found at one time belonged to Miss Callie P. Jones, who says the initials were cut on the terrapin's back in 1870.

Ice Cream Supper.
The ladies of Goshen church will give an ice cream supper Saturday evening, Sept. 11. Proceeds to go for benefit of the church. Everybody invited. 35tf

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF HARTFORD COLLEGE

Much Enthusiasm At Beginning Of Its Thirty-Sixth Year's Work.

Hartford College began its thirty-sixth year of work with splendid prospects on Monday, September 6. A large number of patrons and interested friends, the entire Board of Education and several former pupils, were present. Rev. Creal, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted devotional exercises, after which Mr. Orr and Mrs. Creal rendered some enjoyable musical numbers on the violin and piano.

Mr. Henry Carson, of the Board of Education, expressed his gratification at the large number of out-of-town students entering school, the Board's appreciation of the hearty support of the county patrons and their confidence in the ability of the faculty and their earnestness in the work and upbuilding of the school. Col. Barnett stressed the fact that the members of the Board were behind the teachers in everything, in sympathy with all their work and in hearty co-operation with every advancement made.

Prof. Brown, after outlining the year's work, pledged the best efforts on the part of the faculty and expressed his strong belief in the coming year being the best in the history of the school. With the loyal support of the Board, the interest shown by the patrons and indeed by the entire town and the earnestness manifested by the student body, the prospects are very flattering. Rev. Napier, Supt. Shults, Prof. Leach and others made short talks to the students.

Classifications were completed and lessons assigned and the regular routine of work commenced on Tuesday. A large senior class of twenty-four girls and boys will finish this year. The enrollment in all the departments was slightly in excess of 250.

The following out-of-town pupils have matriculated: Misses Eva Butler, Fordsville; Willie Lindley, Matanzas; Evelyn Clark, Mazie Clark, Sunnydale; Sallie Coleman, Paradise; Myra Gary, Logansport; Ruby Dunn, Cromwell; Lulu Sullenger, Irma Carter, Concord; Dena Rial, Clarice Ward, Sophia Ward, Connie Ralph, No creek; Amelia Barnett, Rosethlyn Collins, Hartford; Gladys Bennett, Geneva Brown, MeHenry; Gustine Mills, Beda; Messrs. Leon Bishop, Mack Benton, Centertown; James Coleman, Paradise; Ellis Bell, Matanzas; Archie Brown, Rockport; Halley Gray Maddox, Central City; Charley Ward, No creek; Leslie Hagerman, Walker Carter, Concord; Gilbert Westerfield, No creek; Pearl Sanderfur, Hartford; J. B. Iglehart, John Riley Heflin, Heflin.

Notes.
Mr. Levi Coleman, of the class of '10, now of Birmingham, Ala., was present at opening Monday.

Among the out-of-town patrons present were Mrs. Claude Maddox, Central City; Messrs. Jesse Byars, Friedland; Joe Hagerman, James Carter, Concord; Mrs. Attie Griffin, Louisville.

A large representation of the class of 1915 were in attendance.

Mr. Orr has organized a class in violin instruction and hopes to arrange for a school orchestra. The faculty urge all interested to visit the school often and see the classroom work.

GERMANY AGREES TO U.S. DEMANDS

President Wilson's Terms Finally Carry.

WILL WARN PASSENGER SHIPS

Before Firing a Torpedo—The Safety Of Noncombatants Is Assured.

KAISER FINALLY SEES LIGHT

Washington, Sept. 3.—Germany has accepted the declarations of the United States in the submarine warfare controversy. Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, has given oral and written assurances to Secretary Lansing that no more passenger ships will be sunk without warning. After a conference at the State Department Ambassador von Bernstorff sent Secretary Lansing this letter:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary: With reference to our conversation of this morning I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contain the following passage:

"Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance."

"Although I know that you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question till the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above because this policy of my Government was decided on before the Arabic incident occurred."

"I have no objection to your making any use you may please of the above information."

"I remain, my dear Mr. Lansing, very sincerely yours,

"J. BERNSTORFF."

In connection with the letter Secretary Lansing made the following statement:

"In view of the clearness of the foregoing statement it seems needless to make any comment in regard to it, other than to say that it appears to be a recognition of the fundamental principle for which we have contended."

Count von Bernstorff's letter was forwarded to President Wilson as soon as it was received at the State Department. No formal comment was made at the White House, but on every hand in official quarters there was evidence of gratification that the submarine crisis had passed and that Germany had acknowledged the justice of the principles for which President Wilson has been contending.

Count von Bernstorff's announcement that the policy had been decided upon before the sinking of the Arabic agreed with statements by officials in Berlin and with information upon which American officials had been depending. Soon after the dispatch of the last Lusitania note President Wilson understood there would not be another such disaster. The sinking of the Arabic, therefore, came as a double shock.

Inasmuch as it seems to have been established that the submarine which sunk the Arabic has been destroyed by a British patrol boat, the exact circumstances may never be determined, other than by testimony from British and American sources.

AVOCATIONS THAT CURE WHILE EMPLOYES WORK

A great deal is written about trades that kill—lead-poisoning in the potteries, "phossy-jaw" in the match factories, and so forth—but few people are aware that there are

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

Scott & Bowne, Barnfield, N. J.

many trades which are medically recommended by the profession on hygienic grounds.

Thus, men who lay asphalt in the street rarely suffer from a day's illness, while those employed in places where a large amount of electricity is generated enjoy a surprising abundance of vitality.

Workers in salt-mines enjoy almost complete immunity from rheumatism.

The healthiest occupation of all is said to be that in the American petroleum works. Here the men never suffer from sore throats, diphtheria, quinsy, or kindred ailments, indeed, petroleum fumes are so good for the throat, that it is quite common for sufferers from throat affections to "take the fumes," just as people "take the waters" at Harrogate or Bath.

A well known tenor who was in danger of losing his voice once took on a job in one of the petroleum-refining rooms as an ordinary employee, with the result that he was soon able to resume his work on the concert platform.

Which reminds us that singing is excellent for consumption. Sometimes it assists as a cure, but it is nearly always effective as a preventive.—[Answers.

TRIALS OF AN AMERICAN GIRL NURSE IN AFRICA

She Treats Six or Seven Hundred Cases of Elephantiasis a Year.

Three years ago a young American woman, Miss Sarah E. Conway, went to Cape Mount, Liberia, to help in the mission there.

On a recent visit to this country Miss Conway was asked to tell a few of her experiences. "I have treated between six and eight thousand sufferers each year," she said. "As soon as breakfast is over the procession of human aches and pains begins, and sometimes when the last school-bell rings at 9 in the evening I am still at work upon these horrible tropical sores which inflict black humanity. While sores are the commonest affliction, there are many others. Ulcers in plenty, infections of different kinds, while naturally the heat, dust and the other conditions of life in tropical Africa produce troubles of the ear, throat and eyes. Besides these chronic difficulties there are, of course, broken bones and accidents of all sorts. Every patient who is able to walk comes to the mission to be treated. Among them are many lepers."

"The clinic at the mission is only a part of the problem. Much visiting in the wretched little places which they call homes is necessary. Fevers, pneumonia, and rheumatism cannot walk or be brought to me; elephantiasis, of which there is a great deal, of course incapacitates the patient. To those afflicted with these diseases I make perhaps six or seven hundred visits a year. Then, too, there are dreadful accidents to which one must hasten with all speed. Many men have been horribly bitten by baboons. These animals seem to attack human beings more fiercely than do any other of the wild dwellers in the jungle. At any hour of day or night I am likely to be called for emergency work."

To those who know Miss Conway's slight, almost frail, physique, this record seems little short of marvelous.

To the Public.

"I feel that I owe the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy a word of gratitude," writes Mrs. T. N. Witherall, Gowanda, N. Y. "When I began taking this medicine I was in great pain and feeling terribly sick, due to an attack of summer complaint. After taking a dose of it I had not long to wait for relief, as it benefited me almost immediately." Obtainable everywhere. (Advertisement)

MANY HEROES ARE REVEALED BY WAR

Story Of a 13-Year-Old British Lad.

A THRILLING BATTLE IN AIR

Fascination Of War Draws Many Wounded Men Back To Battle.

SEEMS THEY CAN'T STAY AWAY

(By Mary B. O'Reilly.)

London, Sept. 4.—Every story from the firing front of the great war reiterates this cardinal truth: Millions of average men are unsuspected heroes. Having discovered their capacity for heroism, they are bound to return to danger.

The authorities are holding in London a small scallawag, George Harris, aged 13, who played hooky to get to the front. He wanted to join the army, but is, of course, too young. So he scraped together enough money to reach Folkestone, stowed away in the boat Flushing and tramped to Antwerp.

German brigades were entering the city. George was captured, taken before a German Lieutenant, and by order deported to Holland as a refugee.

The British Consul at Amsterdam sent him home. But London Judges failed to commit the lad for truancy. By court order he goes to school two days in the week and on the other four days goes recruiting.

His speeches from the steps of St. Paul's are amusing and convincing. "You fellows can take it from me," says the youngest recruiting speaker in England, "the minute I get the chance I'm going back. Sure thing."

From the danger zone of the Dardanelles comes a story of the Manchester Territorials—militia from the shops and the mills.

"I saw a transport full of wounded men cast off," writes one not yet injured. "We cheered them and those who could, cheered back."

"It gave me a lump in my throat to hear them. Wounded and broken, they kind of apologized for going out of action—crying: 'Trust us, mates, we'll soon be back. We'll soon be back.'"

"You lose nearly all grip on civilized life out here," says a private of the Sixth Durhams. "To tell the truth, I spent a fortnight in a proper hell. And yet, once you get the reek of the fight, you are bound to go back."

Even the airmen are not above "the reek of the fight." An aviator of the British Royal Flying Corps out on a scouting expedition encountered the machine of an enemy airman, to which he gave battle.

The Germans, seeing that the Britisher was having the best of the duel, sent out twelve aeroplanes to deal with him.

Despite their numbers, however, they were unable to bring him down. Finally the Britisher, circling high above them, sent two Germans crashing to the ground with shots from his machine gun. Taking advantage of his superior altitude, he flew back and reached Dunkirk. There he collapsed and had to be taken to a hospital.

For three days he lay delirious as a result of the terrible strain. But when Red Cross nurses declared him convalescent, he rose and flew back to the front.

THE WEEKLY EDITORIALS—INFLUENCE FOR GOOD

Many editors of small papers refuse to give their readers editorials on the ground that editorials are for the large city editor. As a matter of fact, the views of the rural population are really reflected by the editorials of the large city papers which glean them from the country papers which run editorials.

The sound thought of the country is to be found in the rural districts. Here, in the more or less quiet of the country, men and women read and study and gather data which results in conclusions founded on a solid basis. Sometimes this thought may be biased by the enthusiasm aroused by the impractical reformer or selfish politician who runs off at a tangent with some new fad or "ism," but generally such fads are short lived and the sensible thinker of the country districts returns to the sane and solid and conservative attitude which has always distinguished him. The editor of the country paper, therefore, has a duty to perform in crystallizing this thought and sending it out to the world as the contribution of his section of the country to the progress of the day. The country editor usually is a comparatively poor man, but he has sand and independence and a pride of work rarely found in other professions. Moreover, he is brought into closer personal contact with his constituency than the editor of the big city paper. It is safe to say that never before in the history of journalism have editorials been more widely or more carefully read—not, perhaps as in the old days, to base an opinion on the views of the editor, but for the purpose of getting all sides of every question.

OLDEST REDMAN INDORSES TANLAC

Remedy Filled Him With New Energy and Vigor After Many Years

Louisville, Sept. 6.—Among those to indorse Tanlac recently is Fred Meinecke, a retired hardware dealer, of 2522 West Jefferson street, this city, who found speedy relief from chronic stomach trouble by use of the premier preparation. Mr. Meinecke, who is sixty-eight years old and the oldest member of the Order of Red Men in Kentucky, said:

"I was suffering from stomach trouble for many years. Finally my condition became so serious that I was forced to retire from business. I was unable to retain even the lightest foods on my stomach, and had the most severe pains imaginable in my abdominal regions after eating. I suffered from headaches, nervousness and dizziness, and found it difficult to sleep."

"After being advised by friends to try Tanlac, and seeing it advertised in the newspaper, I decided to try it. I was astonished at the result. After taking a few doses my appetite returned and I found that I could eat anything I craved with relish. The nervousness and dizziness disappeared and my sleep became restful and peaceful. I no longer suffer from pains in the abdomen and head."

"I can do as much work now as I ever could and feel as well as I did 20 years ago, before I became affected with stomach trouble."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is sold in Hartford by Ohio County Drug Co., Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, by L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown.

It's sometimes safer to throw kisses at a widow than it is to hand them to her.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

READS LIKE "ARABIAN-NIGHTS"

Married Once As Woman and Second Time Took Vows
As a Man.

A CONFESSION OF DUPLICITY

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 4.—Barling her life secrets, Eugenia Deforest, who for twenty-five years had posed as a man, was twice married, once as a woman, again as a man, and divorced, and who for the last five years has conducted a school of dramatic art in Blanchard Hall as "Prof." Deforest, has confessed her duplicity and declared "she had harmed no one." She collapsed after being arrested late yesterday and is being held at a hospital.

The woman's story reads like a page from the "Arabian Nights." "I have always been sexless," she declared. "I have the body of a woman and the thoughts and characteristics of a man. Early in my life I met J. H. Hart, a newspaper man, in New York. His love-making was violent, and, after explaining to him my secret, he consented to our marriage.

"We lived together many years as chums, and were as happy as it is possible for two mortals to be. Before he died we had moved to Los Angeles. One day he called in Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz and said to her: 'Promise me, Clara, you will always be good and true to Eugenia. She will need it.'

"Mrs. Foltz promised. Later I went to San Francisco and the man nature grew stronger in me. Finally I went to a prominent San Francisco doctor, to the Mayor of San Francisco and to several other prominent city officials and placed my case before them. I received certificates, which I can produce, saying that no one should molest me in my character of man, as I was justified in assuming the man role, and so I really became a man.

"Then I returned to Los Angeles and opened my school of dramatic art. Soon after I met Margaret Barton Hawley, housekeeper for a prominent man here, and she proposed to me. I told her there were obstacles in the road, but she waived them aside. Then I told her what the obstacles were.

"She said she did not care, and the ceremony was performed. But she soon tired of the arrangement and separation followed. During all my life I have carried my vocation as an elocutionist to the highest planes and have shared honors with the world's greatest artists, and now this has befallen me. I will continue to pull and twist my life and soul to adjust themselves with life's demands."

"If the law insists I will cast off man's clothes and don woman's garb and again become Eugenia, the woman I was when first a wife."

TON OF CANNON BALLS
FOR EVERY MAN KILLED

For every man killed in battle one ton of cannon balls is required. Although this was an old theory in the days of the flintlocks and muzzle-loaders, it is a known fact to-day. General Robne, of the German army, has proved this to be true by a careful study of statistics on the battle of Kiaochow, which preceded the siege of Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese War.

In this battle the Russians killed 1,475 officers and men. The Japanese loss numbered 4,204 officers and men. The Japanese discharged 40,150 cannon shots and 4,000,000 rifle cartridges, while the Russian forces fired 736,000 rifle cartridges and 7,780 cannon shots. Eighteen per cent. of the losses were caused by artillery and 82 per cent. by small arms. According to General Robne it took 105 cannon balls, or 214 cartridges, to kill each Japanese, and 151 cannon shots, or 3,330 rifle cartridges, to kill each Russian. The cannon balls used by the Japanese had an average weight of 124 pounds 5 ounces, and the rifle cartridges discharged by them weighed 162 grams. Therefore it appears that about 2,200 pounds of steel and lead in the form of cannon balls, or 7 pounds in the form of cartridges, was required to kill each Russian lost in that battle.—[Tid Bits.]

FIRE PROTECTION FOR THE CITY OF HICKMAN

Hickman, Ky., Sept. 4.—An election will be held in Hickman Monday, September 20, for the purpose of determining the desire of the voters on issuing bonds amounting to the sum of $7,500, due ten years from date, for the purpose of purchasing a motor chemical and pumping engine, ladders, hose and other fire protection apparatus. This $7,500 will bear interest from date at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, it being necessary to raise annually by a special tax levy the sum of $1,200 for interest and a sinking fund to retire said bonds at their maturity at a rate of twelve cents per $100 upon all taxable property in the city.

On account of the inadequate fire-fighting facilities a number of fire insurance companies have ceased business here and for these reasons, the rates are very high. The individual losses each year from fires amount to more than the cost of this new fire-fighting apparatus.

LAGRANGE IS WITHOUT A MINISTER IN TOWN

Lagrange, Ky., Sept. 3.—For the first time in the history of this town, it is practically preacherless. Rev. Mr. Weyman, pastor of the Baptist church, having resigned his charge here to take a chair in the Baptist Theological Seminary, and Dr. Wyatt, pastor of the Christian church, having resigned to teach in the Bible College at Lexington. The presiding elder of the Methodist church, Dr. C. E. Bohon, has gone to his new charge and the Methodist pastor, the Rev. W. Maxwell, is attending Conference.

Biliousness and Constipation.

It is certainly surprising that any woman will endure the miserable feelings caused by biliousness and constipation, when relief is so easily had and at so little expense. Mrs. Chas. Peck, Gates, N. Y., writes: "About a year ago I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured me of biliousness and constipation." Obtainable everywhere. (Advertisement)

Pays To Break It.

A teacher was having a hard time explaining the lesson.

"Tommy, you can learn that if you make up your mind. It's not one bit smart to appear dull. I know that you're just as bright as any boy in the class. Remember, Tommy, where there's a will there's a way."

"Aw," broke in Tommy, "I know all that, I do. Me father's a lawyer, an' I heard him say it lots o' times."

"You should not have interrupted me, but I am glad that you father has taught you he old adage. Can you repeat it to me?"

"Sure. Me father says that where der's a will der's always a bunch o' poor relatives."

A Medicine Chest For 25c.

In this chest you have an excellent remedy for toothache, bruises, sprains, stiff neck, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism and for most emergencies. One 25c bottle of Sloan's Liniment does it all—this because these ailments are symptoms, not diseases, and are caused by congestion and inflammation. If you doubt, ask those who use Sloan's Liniment, or better still, buy a 25c bottle and prove it. All druggists. (Advertisement)

THE PRICE OF TOBACCO
AFFECTED BY THE WAR

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 4.—Tobacco buyers of this city, in a public statement given to the press, state that unless the European war is terminated by December, the price of tobacco will be extremely low, but if the war ceases by the time the crop is ready for market, very favorable prices will be paid. They give it as their opinion that the ocean rate and war insurance risk will continue to grow larger if the war is prolonged, and that few foreign buyers will be in the market this winter, because of this exorbitant rate and foreign exchanges ruling so low.

Production of Fluorspar.

According to the annual report of the U. S. Geological Survey on the production of fluorspar, now available for distribution, 95,116 short tons of fluorspar, valued at $570,041, was marketed in the United States during 1914.

MAKING SCHRAPNEL CURIOUS PROCESS

Which Differs According To Country.

AMERICAN 15-POUND MISSILE

Contains 252 Bullets—Are Most Deadly Engines Of Modern Warfare.

TWO METHODS MAKING SHELLS

Aside from the poison gases and the fire bombs which the German armies have used in Flanders, the most deadly engines of modern warfare are the shrapnel shells which are used by all the armies in the present conflict. The most effective parts of the shrapnel are the lead bullets contained in the shell, which are thrown out in a conical shape when the timing fuse, which explodes the powder at the base, blows the nose off the shell, freeing the bullets packed within it. In an eighteen-pound shell the range of these bullets is approximately 250 square yards.

The lead bullets, which are generally half an inch in diameter, are made from a number of different compositions, the most common being that of 87½ parts lead and 12½ parts antimony. The actual number of lead bullets contained in a single shell varies with the different Governments which manufacture them. In the American fifteen-pound shell there are 252, in the British fifteen-pound shell there are 235. The bullets in the American shell have six flattened sides. In foreign-made shells the bullets have spherical sides, an arrangement which does not allow of so close packing as the American plan.

There are two methods of manufacturing shrapnel shells which are commonly used at the present time. By one of these the bullets are cast in iron molds which are split down the center to facilitate removal after casting. By the other, slugs are cut from lead wire and struck between dies in a heading machine. One hydraulic wire press and 14 heading machines, which have a producing capacity of 850 bullets a minute, are used for the manufacture of flattened bullets. One hydraulic press and eight heading machines, with a capacity of 950 bullets a minute, are used to produce the spherical bullets.

The lead bullets for years have been cast from lead wire by a process which is gradually going out of use, and a newer and more rapid process has taken its place. In the method used almost exclusively at present the molten lead is poured into a cylinder from which it is pushed out through a die by means of a plunger, the metal having time to settle before it is forced through the press.

The bullets are shaken together in a tumbling machine or barrel for an hour, the action of one against another removing all unevenness on the sides. A careful watch is kept over the tumbling operation, as it is necessary to see that the bullets conform to a certain standard of weight. A variation of one dram to a pound of bullets is allowed, 41 bullets a pound being the accepted standard. Ten pounds of lead rod produce six and a half pounds of bullets.—[New York Times.]

FATHER KILLS LITTLE SON IN ACCIDENTAL WAY

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 1.—Chas. Mason, aged 7, son of Tandy Mason, who was accidentally shot in the head last Wednesday night while his father was cleaning a pistol, died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The child never regained consciousness. The shooting was purely accidental. Mr. Mason was cleaning a pistol, from which he thought he had extracted all the cartridges. But one was still in the chamber and when he snapped the weapon to test it, the gun was discharged. Just as he pulled the trigger the child ran across the floor directly in front of the weapon, and the bullet struck him just under the left eye and close to the nose.

WILL CONFUCIANISM
HELP REDEEM CHINESE?

The president of the Chinese Republic says: "Will the establishment of Confucianism as a state religion tend to injure the progress of Christianity in China? If anything, it will make a better field for the teachings of Christ. For many years the people have been falling more and more away from the doctrines of the Great Saint and I felt that it was necessary to bring them to a realization of that fact. A nation without a religion is on the downward path. I could not have proclaimed Christianity with any effect, even had I so desired; for 99 per cent of our people would not have known what it meant. But when I used the name of the wonderful Confucius and called upon the people everywhere to take up his words, teachings and example again, there was immediate response here. This, in itself, creates a larger and better field for the Christian missionary, for as the noted Bishop Fabre once said to me, 'Confucius is an excellent stepping-stone to Christ.' "

WAS LOST THREE DAYS IN A KANSAS WHEAT FIELD

The Rev. Frank Page, pastor of the Dodge City Circuit of Methodist churches, got lost in a 1,500-acre Kansas wheat field and was not found for three days.

He had conducted prayer meeting at Wright church, 11 miles from his home, and after service started to walk home. He decided to cut across fields to save distance. Early next morning his wife notified the Marshal of her husband's failure to return home and a search was begun. For two days automobiles scoured the country, without success, and it was believed the minister had been a victim of violence.

The third day the preacher was found semi-conscious. He said the waving grain had baffled his efforts to get out of the field.—[Dodge City (Kan.) Cor. New York Sun.]

Of Course.

Mamma was taking daughter to work.

"I don't like the way you and Jack hang over the front gate every evening," she remonstrated.

"Well, as to that, there's a great deal to be said on both sides," replied daughter.

Getting Even.

"Don't you care for any postcards to-day?" asked a postal clerk as he handed the man the stamp he had requested.

"No, not to-day," said the man.

"Or some stamped envelopes? We have some new ones."

"No thank you."

"Would you like a money order?"

"No."

"Or perhaps you would like to open a postal savings account?"

"I do not."

"Then let me advise you to rent one of our letter boxes."

But the man had fled.

"Who was that fellow, and why did you ask him all those questions?" asked a fellow clerk.

"That," said the other clerk, "is my barber. For years when he has shaved me he has bothered me with recommendations of massages, shampoos, hair cuts, and hair tonics. I am even with him."
